

Security Firing Report Branded Hoax By Foes

By R. L. Livingstone
WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Rees (R-Kan.) called on the Eisenhower administration today to spell out in public detail the operation of the government's employee security program, the center of new campaign controversy.

Rees, chairman of the House Civil Service Committee, set Oct. 20 as a deadline for a report by the Civil Service Commission "setting forth specifically what constitute subversive actions which are the basis for separation of federal employees under a security program."

Calling For Details
Rees, a staunch supporter of the administration, spoke up in the wake of Monday's announcement that 6,926 federal employees had been separated from their jobs as security risks of one kind or another.

Democrats denounced the report as a "hoax."
Rees praised the administration for "prompt action" in moving against subversives, but also urged the Civil Service Commission to dig into its files for data to explain the operations of the Eisenhower security program.

He said he had "always felt" that any program dealing with employment problems "should be one based upon specific legislation spelling out more directly by Congress the policy which is involved." The present program was set up by presidential order effective May 28, 1953.

"I also believe that those who are disloyal or subversive should be fired for that reason, with questions of doubt being resolved in the interest of the government," Rees said in a telephone interview from his home in Kansas.

No Distinction
The commission listed 6,926 federal workers—1,743 of them with some type of "subversive data" in their files — as having been removed from the payroll for security reasons, either by firing or resignation. The period covered was the 13 months prior to June 30.

The last previous report of the commission in March set the total then at 2,486, of whom 429 were in the subversive category.

In neither case was there any indication as to how many suspected subversives had been fired and how many resigned, nor whether in the latter category there had been hearings to determine whether allegations against the separated employees were valid.

The Eisenhower program makes no distinction between suspected subversives and security risks. The latter class may include persons with criminal records, perverts, those who talk or drink too much, and so on.

Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell of the Democratic National Committee termed the report Monday a "numbers racket," a "hoax" and a "desperate new effort to fool the public" in an election campaign.

Public Health Cancer Association Advises Against Cigarettes

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—The Public Health Cancer Assn. says there is now sufficient evidence of a relationship between smoking cigarettes and lung cancer and advises the public to stop smoking cigarettes to reduce the incidence of the disease.

In a resolution adopted Monday, the association urged American youth to "ponder well the question of whether the risk involved (in cigarette smoking) is worth the pleasure gained."

Dr. Morton L. Levin, assistant New York state health commissioner, offered the resolution. It was passed by a 13-3 vote, with about two dozen of those present not voting.

Smoking Major Factor
Dr. Levin said many of those not voting were not members of the association.

He said the association, to his knowledge, was the first public cancer group to specifically advise the public against smoking cigarettes.

The cancer association, founded in 1942, has about 200 members, mostly public health officers and professional persons working to combat the disease. Its members are associated with the U. S. Public Health Service, state and local health departments and voluntary cancer control groups such as the American Cancer Society.

Action on the resolution was taken after a panel discussion by six physicians and statisticians, who said they thought cigarettes were a "major factor in causing lung cancer."

Evidence Not Conclusive
Panel members agreed they would advise people to stop smoking "as the most important practical step they can take" to reduce deaths from lung cancer.

Other medical and scientific researchers have said that they doubted cigarettes were to blame or that the evidence was not conclusive.

In New York Monday night, Dr. Clarence Cook Little, scientific director of the Tobacco Industry Research Committee set up by cigarette firms to do research on smoking and lung cancer, warned against "unreasonable fear based on incomplete information," adding:

"Statements of a definite and final nature concerning the relationship between any human habit and cancer are, at the present time, premature if they have the impression of conclusive and complete coverage of that relationship."

"We should not overlook the possibility that excessive cigarette smoking and the tendency to cancer are both expressions of some fundamental cause of a constitutional or hormonal nature."

Dow is America's sole producer of magnesium, with plants in Michigan and Texas. It now leases the Velasco plant from the government, and has offered to pay up to $13,500,000 for it.

The General Services Administration, which has jurisdiction over the plant, wants to sell it to Dow. The Defense Department, which has a vital interest in magnesium production, favors the sale to Dow.

Dow contends it is not its fault that it is the only magnesium producer. Many other companies have produced the light metal but have stopped production.

Wilson Arouses Ire Of Labor In Detroit Talk

DETROIT (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson was the center of a storm of protest today over his remarks at a press conference in answer to questions on the nation's unemployment in labor distressed areas.

Wilson told newsmen Monday that while he had a "lot of sympathy" for the jobless in labor surplus areas, he has always "liked bird dogs better than kennel-fled dogs."

Retraction Demanded
After reading published reports of the press conference, Walter Reuther, CIO and United Auto workers president, sent a five-page telegram to President Eisenhower demanding that Wilson "publicly retract" the statement or "be asked to retire from public life."

Wilson made the remark in answer to newsmen's questions on the placing of defense contracts in labor distressed areas.

After stories of the news conference appeared in Detroit papers, the Michigan Republican State Central Committee early today issued what it said was a tape-recorded transcript of the conference.

The transcript quoted Wilson as saying a group of people had approached him in Washington "a little over a year ago" asking for defense contracts for their district which had been classified as a labor distress area.

Not Enough Gumption
"One of them made the complaint, 'You know you've just reduced the draft. In our district there are 110 more young men that won't have to go to the Korean front now and that'll add to our unemployment,'" Wilson said.

"And the idea that a 19-year-old boy could be drafted and sent to Korea to be shot at and he didn't have enough gumption to go 100 miles and get himself a job—I don't go for that," he added.

"And I've got a lot of sympathy for people where a sudden change catches 'em—but I've always liked bird dogs better than kennel-fled dogs. You know, one who'll get out and hunt for food rather than sit on his haunches and yelp," the transcript quoted Wilson.

Wilson was in Detroit to speak at a $100-a-plate Republican banquet Monday night. He had no comment on Reuther's telegram.

Spokesmen at the Summer White House in Denver said President Eisenhower would have no comment on Reuther's demand until the telegram had been received.

Others quick to comment on Wilson's remark were Sen. Olin D. Johnson (D-SC), Sen. Homer Ferguson (R-Mich.), and Ferguson's Democratic opponent in the November senatorial election, Patrick V. McNamara.

McNamara Critical
Another comment that spurred Reuther to send the strongly worded telegram was Wilson's statement that he expected employment in Michigan to "balance itself out by Christmas as new models get into production" and maybe a few workers would go back South when it gets a little cold.

Ferguson, addressing a Republican group, said:

"The opponents for the nonvoting seat in Congress are E. L. (Bob) Bartlett, the incumbent Democrat, and Mrs. Barbara Dimock, a Republican legislator. Bartlett is a heavy favorite to win a sixth two-year term."

Democrats have held the Congress seat continuously since 1932.

Chicago Cleans Up; Water Damage May Exceed 15 Million

CHICAGO (AP)—There was a speedup in cleanup operations today from the city's worst rainstorm of the century and the flood crisis appeared diminishing.

No heavy rains were forecast today after a weekend of torrential rains measuring nearly 7 inches. But much of the city's business and industrial activities were curtailed.

Damage from the floods, which drove thousands from their homes in the city and suburbs, was estimated at 15 million dollars.

An estimated 100,000 persons were made idle Monday as a result of the flood. Power plants which were knocked out virtually halted operations at nearly a score of big industrial plants.

Other thousands were kept from jobs by damage to business buildings and factories, flooded homes and transportation problems. Payroll losses added to the property damage.

The waters also extended over a wide area to the west and south of Chicago, with southwestern suburban areas hardest hit.

Four deaths were attributed to the floodwaters in Chicago. Two men were found dead in flooded

Alaska Election Today Watched For Vote Trend

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP)—Alaskans are voting today in an election that is of national interest for its possible weathervane indications of political trends.

"As Alaska goes, so goes the nation" has been an increasingly accurate political adage from the north country in recent years.

The territory always has done its voting early. It used to take a long time for the votes to come in by dog team or boat and then the outgoing legislators needed extra time to travel to the capital.

In 1952 Republicans won control of both houses of the Legislature. Significant indications of trends are not expected until Wednesday morning. The count is slow in the big city precincts and the returns from most of the widely scattered outlying precincts don't start coming in until the next day.

Voters will be choosing a delegate to Congress, a territorial labor commissioner, a treasurer, a new House of Representatives and nine members of the 16-seat Senate.

The opponents for the nonvoting seat in Congress are E. L. (Bob) Bartlett, the incumbent Democrat, and Mrs. Barbara Dimock, a Republican legislator. Bartlett is a heavy favorite to win a sixth two-year term.

Democrats have held the Congress seat continuously since 1932.

With Mrs. Fenner when she jumped were her daughter, Paula, 3, a sister, Mrs. Meta Erler, 40, also of Detroit, and Mrs. Fenner's psychiatrist, Dr. Albert A. J. Wallaert.

Mrs. Fenner had been under treatment for a mental disorder. Mrs. Erler said when her sister walked into Dr. Wallaert's office she looked from the window and remarked:

"It's awfully high."

Then she kicked out a glass ventilator and put one leg over the sill through the open window, Mrs. Erler said.

Mrs. Erler grabbed her. Paula's knee, however, had been cut by the broken glass. And when Dr. Wallaert, called to assist, and Mrs. Erler turned to help the child, the mother plunged head first from the window.

Ruling On Unpaid Bills Gives State $5,800,000 Surplus

LANSING (AP)—A bookkeeping shuffle based on an attorney general's opinion today raised the state's general fund surplus for the past fiscal year from $3,700,000 to $5,800,000.

The announcement of the increased surplus by State Controller John W. Lederle climaxed a long undercover row between lawmakers and the auditor general's staff aligned against Lederle's Department of Administration.

The core of the attorney general's opinion held that more than two million dollars worth of bills accumulated by the State Liquor Control Commission, but unpaid at the end of the fiscal year, did not need to be charged against the past fiscal year's books.

Thus, the unpaid bills were allowed to go over as a charge against the current year's revenues, and the general fund balance for the past year was benefitted accordingly.

A contrary opinion would have cut the surplus to about $1,500,000, officials said.

Three dikes broke at Woodmar. Others had crumbled in the Schleicher district.

The Red Cross reported only the tips of the flags showed above the torrent on the Woodmar golf course and houses were awash almost to their lower floor windows.

Fifth Army engineers from Chicago struggled with the dikes through the night, aided by hundreds of volunteers, firemen and police.

Mayor Vernon C. Anderson of Hammond reported, "We're doing all we can."

Mayor Anderson estimated damage in Hammond may reach a million dollars. He had proclaimed a state of emergency Monday.

Schools Closed
Meanwhile, flood damage in northwest Indiana was estimated in the millions. Hundreds of families have fled their homes. Many have moved in with relatives.

About 1,000 families have been evacuated from sections of South Hammond, Highland, Munster and Whiting. More than 100,000 persons live in the region.

Many schools in the area were closed. Some highways remained blocked.

The Red Cross set up a center in the Hammond Civic Auditorium. An Indiana National Guard unit from Gary helped the fight against the muddy flood at both the Little Calumet and at Wolf Lake.

Plymouth, some 50 miles to the east, was also awash Monday as the Yellow River overflowed its banks.

Rats Flushed Out
East Chicago, Michigan City, La Porte and Valparaiso also had flood waters.

Hobart, southeast of the Hammond disaster area, reported the Deep River considerably higher and threatening the Lake George Dam. The city's sewage plant was flooded out.

Cascades of water pouring into dumps at Hobart flushed big packs of rats and townspeople stood by trying to stop them with rifles.

Damage to the sewage plant alone at Hobart was estimated at $100,000.

More Rainfall Hits Escanaba

For the second straight day the pea soup fog turned to rain over most of the Upper Peninsula. Indications are that the rain will change back to fog and drizzle and last through most of the day, breaking away tonight when the wind shifts. Up to 11 this morning .68 of an inch of rain fell at Escanaba.

Today's temperature will remain the same as yesterday, 57, but it will be 40 tonight, cooler than last night's 53. The clouds will stick around tomorrow but are not expected to change to rain until the weekend.

Over the nation temperatures were near or slightly above the seasonal norms with 30's in the northern plateau regions and 70's in the southern states. There are generally 50 degree readings in the upper Great Lakes area.

The weekend hot spot, Presidio, Texas, gave way to a sweltering 102 at El Centro, Calif. today. Other readings in the high 90's were recorded on the southern gulf region.

Hurricane Hazel is twisting slowly across the extreme southwestern part of Haiti and is expected to reach the northwestern part of the island with hurricane winds this afternoon or tonight.

7 Gladstone Residents Will Share In Surprise Estate Of Chicagoan

Seven Gladstone residents will share approximately $35,000 from the estate of John W. Nelson, 68-year-old Chicago "office boy" who died last Tuesday of a heart attack.

The Chicago man's wealth of $150,000 was discovered after his death when investigators of the Chicago coroner's office, searching for a deed to a cemetery lot in the man's room in a boarding house, found stocks and bank books worth $150,000. No will was found, however.

Escanaba Called Natural Seaport

Because of its natural deep water harbor and strategic location, Escanaba may well become one of the leading ports of the St. Lawrence seaway route, Escanaba Kiwanis Club members were told Monday by Roy Jensen, secretary of the Escanaba Port Authority.

"We have it all right at our doorstep," Jensen said. "A deep water harbor, plenty of shore area for docks, and adequate rail and highway connections to handle cargoes coming in and out of the west."

"First of all, we must sell ourselves on the idea that we have the best there is in natural seaway harbor assets, and then we must go out and promote that business from the west," the Kiwanis speaker declared.

He pointed out that the port of Escanaba was already handling approximately 10 million tons of Great Lakes freight annually, and that railroads and truck lines stand to benefit by increased tonnage expected when the lake seaway becomes a reality. Immediate improvement of docking facilities, along with dredging of certain areas of the inner harbor to 27 feet of depth were recommended as steps which should be undertaken in preparing to cash in on the ocean cargo traffic.

Jensen was introduced by H. W. Gasman, Kiwanis program chairman.

Yesterday Frank Nelson of Gladstone received a telephone call from C. A. Pedderson, an attorney of Rockford, Ill., in which Pedderson advised Nelson that he (Nelson), four brothers and two sisters, all residents of Gladstone, are among the heirs to the estate.

The father of the deceased "office boy" and the late Emil Nelson, of Gladstone, a pioneer photographer in this area, were brothers. Emil Nelson was the father of the seven Gladstone residents who are among the heirs to the estate.

Besides Frank Nelson, they are Mrs. Emma Raddant, Mrs. Frank Cole, Clarence Nelson, Emil Nelson, Delbert Nelson and Gust Nelson, all living in Gladstone.

The major portion of the estate will go to direct descendants of the deceased man's father. As second cousins, the Gladstone residents will share in a minor portion of the estate.

None of the Gladstone heirs personally knew the Chicagoan.

Aid Handicapped With Employment

Employers who hire handicapped persons to fill jobs suited to their capabilities will find they have a loyal and efficient employee whose rate of production is slightly higher than that of the unimpaired worker, the Escanaba Rotary Club was told yesterday by Whitney Dixon, branch manager of the Michigan Employment Security Commission.

Dixon spoke to the Rotary Club in connection with the observance of national Employ the Handicapped Week.

Hiring the physical handicapped makes for greater national production, strengthens the national security, lightens the taxpayer's load, Dixon pointed out in his talk. America has a total of two million handicapped men and women who can be added to the nation's work force—if they are trained and hired.

About three per cent of the total number of persons seeking employment in Delta and Schoolcraft Counties have some physical handicap, Dixon reported. This indicates that employers should provide more openings for jobs for them.

Impaired workers usually produce at a slightly higher rate than the unhandicapped, and Dixon said he believes the handicapped worker accepts his job as a challenge and has a greater interest in it. Dixon invited employers to consult with the Michigan Employment Security office, 718 Ludington, for assistance in hiring the handicapped.

Board Approves Budget Increase

The Delta County Board of Supervisors yesterday approved a budget of $310,710.25 for 1955. This is $26,708 more than the 1953 budget.

County welfare and Health Department appropriations have been increased this year and the Road Commission was allocated $8,000.

Orrie Switzer, the county dog warden has been hired on a yearly basis and will operate during the winter months. Originally he was hired for the summer months only.

The bid of the Addressograph Company was accepted on a machine to write the county tax rolls. An appropriation of $3,700 was made for the purchase and operation of the machine.

A resolution was adopted by the board to install a traffic signal at the intersection of US 2-41 at Rapid River. Several deaths have occurred at that intersection and a light was deemed necessary.

An appeal was sent by the board to the Michigan Legislature to amend the state tax law which states that counties with fractional school districts must accept the state equalized tax evaluation figures.

A.J. Cayia Describes Experiences In Flood

A. J. Cayia, president of Inland Lime and Stone Co., Manistique, and an official of the Iron Mine Co., Canada, who resides at 364 Lake St., Manistique, recently traveled to Chicago and Indiana, and he was enroute home Sunday when he encountered the Chicago flood. Mr. Cayia describes a few of the things he saw while in the area:

"I arrived at the Chicago Midway Airport via plane at 7:30 p. m. Sunday and wanted to catch a Chicago Milwaukee train at 7:45 p. m. at the Union Station. I took a cab from the airport and we extensively detoured all over Chicago trying to get around the water. When we arrived at Union Station, it was in total darkness. The rain was coming down in torrents and it was very warm and humid. The loading track for my train was 6 feet under water, and the water was flowing over a 6 foot retaining wall between the passenger station and the Chicago River. The floor itself was above water, but the tracks and loading area were under water.

"Telephone service was out except for one local line that was working. An hour after I arrived, temporary flood lights were put up by the Chicago fire department.

Ole Harstad Gift:

Half Of $25,000 Bequest For Crippled Children Is Received By Association

The Crippled Children's Association of Escanaba, a non-profit organization, yesterday was presented with a check for $12,500 from the estate of the late Ole Harstad, Bark River businessman, representing one-half of a total $25,000 bequeathed to assist crippled and afflicted children of the Escanaba community.

James Degnan, president of the Crippled Children's Association and chairman of the Escanaba Rotary Club's crippled children's committee, received the check from Atty. Nicholas R. Chapekis at the Monday noon meeting of the Rotary Club at the Delta Hotel.

Atty. Chapekis, attorney for the Ole Harstad estate, said the check was from a trust fund established before Mr. Harstad's death. The trust contained a $25,000 gift to the Crippled Children's Association of Escanaba.

One Of Many Gifts

In accepting the check for the Association, Degnan expressed the Association's appreciation and said that above all the gift typified "the faith of Ole Harstad in the work of Rotary for crippled children." Harstad was an honorary member of the Escanaba Rotary Club until his death.

The $25,000 trust for crippled children was but one of many gifts by Harstad to assist the crippled and afflicted youngsters. Camp Harstad near Ford River is named for him because he gave the valuable shore property on which it is located.

Title to Camp Harstad was transferred to the Crippled Children's Association of Escanaba from the Escanaba Board of Education, which held it temporarily until the Association was formed.

Will Invest Funds

Atty. James Fitzharris advised the Rotary Club that the Association has two objectives: 1—The operation and maintenance of a camp for crippled and afflicted children; and 2—Sponsoring activities for crippled and afflicted children.

Only the interest will be used from the $25,000 gift from Mr. Harstad, Atty. Fitzharris said. The Association will continue as long as the crippled children's camp and activities are carried on, and should they be discontinued, the title to Camp Harstad will revert to the Escanaba Board of Education.

Officers of the Association are James Degnan, president; Erling Arntzen, vice president; A. W. Moberg, secretary; and Nevin Reynolds, treasurer. Members of the Rotary Club's crippled children committee, the president and secretary of the Rotary Club, and the president of the Board of Education are members of the board of directors.

X-Ray Units In County Now

Two mobile x-ray units have completed the tuberculosis survey in Dickinson and Iron Counties and start today in the Delta-Menominee survey. The units will be in the two counties for three weeks.

A goal of 8,000 chest x-rays was set by the State Department of Health in Dickinson and Iron Counties but 9828 x-rays were taken in the two counties. There were 2897 in Iron County and 5,931 in Dickinson County.

A goal of 12,000 has been set for Delta and Menominee Counties. The measure of success of the survey depends upon four results, according to the Department of Health, as follows:

1. The number of tuberculosis cases discovered.
2. The number of young housewives and older persons x-rayed. 3. The number of persons x-rayed for the first time. 4. The percentage of the population x-rayed. The aim of the survey is to x-ray every person in the area over the age of 15.

Give As Generously As You Can To County Community Chest

DURING the month of October volunteer solicitors will seek to raise $20,000 for the Delta County Community Chest.

This is not an astronomical sum of money for a cause as worthy as this and if every wage earner does his or her part, the goal should be reached well in advance of the deadline.

The Delta County Community Chest supports six of the most important programs being conducted in this area. They are the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Campfire Girls, Salvation Army, Cod Liver Oil Fund and Michigan Children's Aid.

It is significant that the emphasis is placed upon the programs for youth. Money contributed to this cause pays dividends in a big way in better citizenship and this is extremely important in these days of rising juvenile delinquency.

It cannot be emphasized too much that contributions to the Delta County Community Chest are for six agencies not just one or two. Consequently, contributors should bear this in mind in determining the size of their contributions. A donation of one or two dollars is hardly a fair contribution to a cause in which the funds received are to be divided six ways.

The quotas assigned to each of the political units in the county are fair and realistic. Escanaba's quota is $12,500, Gladstone's $4,500 and the townships $3,000. The programs supported by the participating agencies in the Community Chest are county-wide, substantially in relationship to the assigned quotas.

The solicitors for the Community Chest and the leaders are your friends and neighbors. They are doing this chore as a matter of civic pride and without recompense. Moreover, they are contributing their money, too, in addition to the hours of time that they are devoting to this job.

As a matter of courtesy and in appreciation of this volunteer service, contributors should have their contributions ready at the time the solicitors call. This will preclude the necessity of calling back and will serve to lessen the work of the volunteers.

Give as generously as you can to the Delta County Community Chest to assure that the goal of $20,000 will be reached and further that it will be attained as soon as possible.

Today In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—The most sensational security scandal the United States government has encountered since Klaus Fuchs stole the secret of the atom bomb for Russia has just been uncovered in the arrest by the FBI of Joseph S. Petersen Jr., professor of physics and mathematics, employed for the last 13 years in the National Security Agency.

This agency—which is not to be confused with the National Security Council—is wholly within the Department of Defense. It used to be in the army. It is the most "hush-hush" operation in Washington. For it deals with the whole problem of codes and ciphers used in communicating secret information to and from other countries throughout the world.

If anyone could know the secrets of this agency he could decipher and read all the messages going back and forth, not only between military installations of the United States here and abroad, but between the United States and all its embassies and legations in foreign countries.

Petersen is charged with receiving into his own possession, outside the offices of the National Security Agency, highly secret documents beginning in 1948 and running until December 1952. During part of that period the Korean war was going on. Whether what was learned by foreign officials outside the United States as a result of this leak played a part in the unhappy result of the Korean war is not yet known.

IN FRIENDLY HANDS

But this much is clear—the Petersen documents found their way into the hands of a foreign government which is being described as friendly. This means merely that the government concerned was not a Communist country. But it does not mean that the information failed to reach one or more Communist governments. For if the Communists had a man planted in the offices of a friendly government abroad, a surreptitious means of communication from Washington to Moscow was thereby opened up.

Although the government in question to which the Peterson documents were transmitted is not Great Britain, it may be noted in passing that Donald MacLean, who was for a long time in charge of the "American desk" in the British foreign office, fled in May 1951 behind the Iron Curtain.

The new scandal points up clearly one thing—that the United States Senate is allowing itself to become the victim of a "red herring" when it proposes to spend a special session debating whether Senator McCarthy used polite language to a general or to a senator while at the same time the weaknesses of the American security system are not being investigated.

The congress established a Senate and a House committee on governmental operations. Senator McCarthy as the head of the Senate committee has been trying to focus attention on the weakness of the present security system, only to find himself persecuted and prosecuted. But the facts which are emerging now indicate that a coverup job has been done on the real looseness inside executive agencies. It is not the result of any disloyalty among officials here, but it is the direct consequence of administrative incompetence.

FACTS NOT ALL TOLD

To this day all the facts about the Fort Monmouth scandal have not been revealed, and determined efforts have been made to hush up what happened there. At Fort Monmouth are the secrets relating to the newest methods of detecting the approach of enemy bombers bearing atomic bombs. This is important to the safety of the people of the United States. Yet the military recommendations that certain things be cleaned up at Fort Monmouth were overlooked or neglected by civilian boards whose acts have never been exposed to public view. Why were the army's own recommendations so long neglected at Fort Monmouth? What civilians were mixed up in this neglect of duty? These are pertinent questions, and while so far as is known thus far what happened at Fort Monmouth has no direct connection with the Petersen scandal, the underlying weakness of the system in both place is just the same.

The American people do not know that the FBI has nothing to do with the operations of Fort Monmouth or the National Security Agency, and that military personnel have the primary responsibilities for surveillance. Conceding the loyalty and conscientious character of the military personnel engaged in intelligence work, the question arises at another level—the civilian boards which alone evaluate the evidence concerning personnel. Who supervises these civilian boards in the different government departments? Nobody except theoretically the busy chief of the agency itself.

There is no overall review board in existence today on either loyalty or security matters. The Truman administration had a loyalty review board, but none that was empowered to review security risk cases. The Eisenhower administration has moved a step back in abolishing the overall review board on loyalty without substituting a new board to check up on all the departmental boards in both loyalty and security cases.

When a person's weak side is their inside, it leads to overweight.

Any period of change for the world may be okay, but we prefer a period of folding money.

Don't Jeer Yet, Folks, Could Be a Freak of Nature

New Legion Head Will Stump U.S. By Airplane For U.M.T.

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

WASHINGTON —(NEA) —This could be the year when the American Legion tips the balance on selling Congress and the people universal military training.

That's the opinion of Seaborn P. Collins, the tall, lean new National Commander who shows promise of giving the Legion one of its most enlightened administrations during the next 12 months of his term.

"When some of your partners in mutual security against communism begin to drop by the way, the only thing left to do is strengthen your self internally," he says. "And the only way you can do that without bankrupting the U. S. Treasury is to adopt UMT."

Collins is an Air Force veteran who piloted cargo planes over granted by Congress," he insists. "That's the only sensible way to protect it."

Close friends of Collins predict he will get the Legion's row with the AMA out of the headlines "and out of the bitter name-calling stage."

"Seaborn is a diplomat and has a special talent for reconciling conflicting points of view amicably," says a friend.

Collins' chief personal interest is in foreign affairs. "One of the things we have to fear most in the current difficulties with some of our allies is that national sentiment will become strongly isolationist," he says.

"This important way to avoid this is to keep the public better informed on just what is going on abroad and just what the country's goals are in its foreign policies."

Collins is also concerned with sentiment in the Legion for pulling the U. S. out of the United Nations.

"It would be all wrong for us to get out of the UN now," he says. "This nation accomplishes a great deal diplomatically by its membership in that body."

Neither is the new Legion commander as outspokenly critical of the country's defense policies as are some Legion officials. "We've got to trust the judgment of men like President Eisenhower and Admiral Radford on our defense," he says.

"But I think it is also the duty of the American Legion to keep a close watch on the state of our preparedness at all times," he adds.

Speaking about the recent uproar caused by the Illinois Legion department's protest against the Girl Scouts he says:

"That kind of thing is unfortunate because the Legion is working hard with all legitimate youth groups, including the Girl Scouts. But the trouble is straightened out now and the sooner forgotten the better."

He does not think it's the duty of the National Commander to step into such problems, however. "The Legion is founded on the ideas of democracy and each post and state department is entitled to take any action it sees fit on any matter which concerns it," he says.

On the problem of veterans' benefits generally, a matter of primary concern to the Legion, Collins believes the government should keep its veterans' programs working at maximum efficiency and increase pensions as the cost of living increases.

Boston Tea Party Tea Was From Amoy-Quemoy

WASHINGTON — From the embattled southeast coast of China, where Nationalist and Communist Chinese have been exchanging increasingly heavy fire, came the tea dumped overboard at the Boston Tea Party of 1773, says the National Geographic Society.

The port from which the British ship sailed with its historic cargo was Amoy, now in Communist hands. Near-by Quemoy Island, only six miles from Amoy Island and five miles from the Red mainland, has been the focal point in a three-cornered struggle that recently cost the lives of two army officers of an American advisory group.

Was Treaty Port

In the years prior to the American Revolution Amoy had become the First Chinese port to trade with the British and Dutch, the Society points out. Later, by the Treaty of Nanking that ended the Anglo-Chinese war in 1842, the ancient city of Amoy off the Fukien coast was named one of the five "treaty ports" opened to foreign traffic and residence.

Unlike well-known Amoy, Quemoy only lately has come into prominence as one of the Chinese Nationalists' strongest offshore bases. With its neighbors—another island called Little Quemoy and several islets—Quemoy has remained continuously under Nationalist control since the Reds took over southern China in 1949. At that time, the Communists made strenuous efforts to capture the Quemoy island group and were repulsed with heavy losses.

Of the Nationalists' major island bases, the Quemoy's come closest to the Communist dominated mainland. The Nationalists' Formosa stronghold is 85 miles east of the bulging China shore.

Big Quemoy covers some 50 square miles and is a little larger than Amoy Island. With narrow waist of only two miles, it resembles on the map an hour-glass lying on its side. It is mostly low-lying, especially in the north facing the Reds' coastal batteries. Some high cliffs rise along the east shore.

Before the Nationalists moved in with garrisons and fortifications, Quemoy had a population of nearly 50,000. Farmers grow some rice and wheat, although a generally sandy soil is more favorable to such crops as peanuts and sweet potatoes. Lately Formosa is reported to be shipping in rice and other additional food supplies. Quemoy's kaolin quarries have long been worked for the pure white clay used in making porcelain.

History Of Violence

Conflict and violence are an old story in the Amoy-Quemoy area.

Pirates have periodically infested these waters. From the 16th century to the mid-19th, troubles between local Chinese and foreign powers seeking trade and influence led to riots, the burning of the foreigners' ships, and sometimes open warfare. The Japanese occupied Amoy and the surrounding region from 1938 until the end of World War II.

Back in the 13th century Amoy made history as the final refuge of the Sung dynasty fleeing the conquering Mongols from the north.

After the fall of the Ming dynasty in the 1600's, this coastal section became the center of a fierce rebellion against the incoming Manchus. General Koxinga, the "pirate patriot" who fought to restore Ming power, seized Amoy and adjoining islands and assembled there a large and picturesque following.

With him in his daring but unsuccessful attempt, he claimed to have some 8,000 war junks and 800,000 fighting men, including all the pirates then ranging the southeast coast of China.

Edson In Washington

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

NEA Staff Correspondent

(Peter Edson is on vacation.)

WASHINGTON—(NEA) —They're already talking about the weird kind of politics which would result if the Democrats win control of Congress in the upcoming elections.

Topping the list of weirdies is the claim that the Democrats could embarrass the Republicans by insisting on picking up the mortgage on Vice President Nixon's home by giving him an official residence, same as the White House for the President.

Last year the Commission on Congressional and Judicial Salaries—composed of representatives from labor, industry, the professions and ordinary citizens—recommended that such a residence be established and a bill to accomplish it was introduced in both the House and Senate.

The Senate sent the measure to the Bureau of the Budget and got a prompt reply stating that there was plenty of money in the till for an official vice presidential residence, and furthermore, the idea did not violate Republican economy pledges.

When the bills were introduced George Gallup, apparently hard up for a more vital issue, took a poll on the subject. He reported that 43 per cent of the people were against it, 39 per cent for it and 18 per cent didn't care.

THERE'S NO EVIDENCE in the official record that George's poll was directly responsible for Vice President Nixon being forced to continue the mortgage payments on his private residence. But Administration action behind it came to a dead stop after the Budget Bureau put its stamp of approval on the idea.

The Senate Public Works Committee never discussed the bill and it was as thoroughly ignored by the House Rules Committee.

The only positive action on the measure since then is its inclusion in a new list prepared by the White House of Administration programs which Congress failed to act upon, but which the President apparently still wants.

The idea for the residence was actually born in the brain of a fellow Californian of Mr. Nixon's, Lloyd Wright, not the architect, but an official of the American Bar Association who served on the Commission.

LLOYD'S PROPOSAL had the unanimous support of the full Commission. He argued that Nixon had greatly enhanced the job of the vice presidency, and because of that the position warranted this additional dignity.

About that time Nixon was traveling in the Far East and it was pointed out that when he go back he would have to do a lot of entertaining to repay the hospitality debts he had contracted out there.

Another member of the Commission offered the opinion that an official residence would make it easier to protect the vice president and, further, that most citizens had been shocked to learn that former Vice President Truman was living in a very modest apartment at the time of the death of Franklin Roosevelt. It was also pointed out that most of the military brass in town had official residences.

The bill introduced would have the government buy or build a house for $300,000 and provide $24,000 each year, to be spent at the discretion of the vice president to maintain it.

It would have to be in the District of Columbia.

THAT EXPENDITURE WOULD BE in addition to the vice president's present salary of $30,000 per year, plus $10,000 for expenses.

Nixon himself, for obvious reasons, has never commented on the measure. He lives in a house which cost $41,000. During the '52 campaign when he made the famous TV explanation of his "fund" he stated that there was a $20,000 mortgage on it, probably reduced since then.

In spite of Mr. Gallup's poll, at least the men who sell sight-seeing tours around the White House believe that the general public wants an official residence for the vice president.

"Where is the vice president's home?" is the second most frequently asked question, they say, the first being, "Which is Ike's bedroom?"

Words, Wit & Wisdom

By William Morris

"A phrase that has always puzzled me," writes an Asbury Park (N. J.) reader, "is 'it exceeded my fondest expectations.' I know that fond means warm or affectionate but what sense is there in 'affectionate expectations'? Sounds silly to me."

You are correct, of course, in saying that the most common meaning of fond nowadays is "affectionate." However, long before the word acquired this meaning—in indeed, when it was still spelled "fon" without the terminal "d"—it meant foolish or silly. Thus the real meaning of the phrase you quote is "beyond my most foolish expectations"—which makes sense, don't you agree?

Possibly the most celebrated instance of "fond" in this meaning is found in Shakespeare's KING LEAR, when the king describes himself, quite accurately, as "a very foolish fond old man."

Here's a verbal oddity for your collection. Of all fabrics used for youngster's clothing none—save, perhaps, denim—is so sturdy, so well able to withstand the abusive rough-and-tumble wear that young boys give it, as corduroy. It is truly the plebian workhorse of today's fabrics—and yet its name, literally, means "cord fit for the king!" Originally corduroy (from the French corde du roi) was woven from silk and was used exclusively by the kings of France as part of their hunting costumes.

"My daughter," writes a San Diego mother, "has been talking about 'trampoline' acts on a TV circus program. I can't find the word in Webster's COLLEGIATE. What does it mean?"

A trampoline (pronounced TRAM-puh-lin) is a light platform of canvas stretched on a frame raised above the surface of the arena. Acrobats perform various stunts while bouncing up and down on the trampoline.

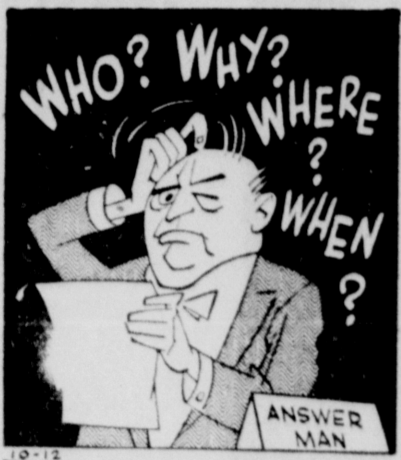

Try And Stop Me By BENNETT CERF

Orson Bean, who is a very droll fellow, and who can transform an ordinary newspaper into the damndest eucalyptus tree you ever saw, served a hitch as "answer man" for a small-town newspaper during a summer vacation from college. Orson, who identifies himself as "Harvard '48, Yale '0," was almost caught out on a limb by the correspondent who demanded, "Where can alligators be found?" rallied at the last moment to reply, "Alligators are never lost." Another reader inquired, "Do you consider Hannibal one of the greatest generals in history?" Orson answered cautiously, "It is beginning to appear so."

Robert Linscot pinned this notable posey on the lapel of a fellow book editor: "He smites the barren rock with his blue pencil, and lo, champagne gushes forth."

Writes a hack-driver from Newark: "I'm getting pretty tired of pedestrians. Why don't they buy cars and defend themselves?"

The Doctor Says... Surgery Is Best Treatment For Bleeding Hemorrhoids

By EDWIN P. JORDAN M. D. — Written for NEA Service

The condition known as piles or hemorrhoids has been discussed on numerous occasions previously but the problem is still with us and probably always will be. In any event numerous readers of this column keep asking questions on the subject, principally about cause and treatment.

It is not possible to give a very good explanation of the cause of piles. They consist of enlarged or dilated veins known as hemorrhoidal veins lying around the exit of the intestinal tract. It would seem that anything which increases the pressure of the blood passing through these veins would be likely eventually to weaken the walls of the veins so that they remain permanently enlarged.

CERTAINLY there are reasons to believe that long continued strain such as chronic constipation, childbirth, a severe cough contribute to the development of piles. It is also possible that the sitting for hours at a time which so many occupations now demand has something to do with the development of hemorrhoids.

Once present what can one do, and is there anything better than surgery? It is true that sometimes the veins become temporarily greatly enlarged and then may return to normal or almost so. This happens quite often at childbirth, for example.

BUT IF THE PILES are permanent and are causing bleeding, itching or discomfort, all of which are common, the best treatment is usually surgery. This involves cutting out or tying the enlarged veins, or both. Injecting them with an irritating fluid which causes them to close up is sometimes used but this is not always possible.

When a person with hemorrhoids understands what has happened he will not be so likely to expect some new and miraculous form of treatment. But there is another thing, too, which everyone should realize.

THERE ARE A lot of these veins and no person with piles has them all enlarged. Consequently if the enlarged veins are cut or injected it is possible that others will dilate and cause trouble later.

For this reason it is wise to try to identify and correct if possible such factors as constipation or coughing which may have had something to do with their development in the first place.

I am often asked also whether hemorrhoids increase the chances of developing cancer. They do not.

An echo of Philip Stoneman's code flashed through Jim's mind. "You planned for money, a husband for Mrs. Kit, and an easy life?"

"Yes," Kit answered. "You try to make it sound horrible. I don't know why you should. Sue and I were left alone when our parents died. We had to plan, because we had our own way to make. Sue went to work in a private home, worked up until she got good money as a cook. We didn't see each other much, and then only in secret. We decided I was to have schooling. Sue made the money to keep us alive, but I worked hard too. And now, well, I'm married to Peter Carlson, and I could pretend to hire Sue as my cook, so we could share."

Jim said, "Didn't the San Francisco police find out your true relationship?"

Mrs. Gelstrap giggled. "No, they didn't. We covered it well. I kept in the background, gave money and advice while Kit..." she hesitated.

"Shopped around?" Jim suggested.

"That isn't quite the way to put it," Kit said seriously. "Sue always said it was just as easy to fall in love with a man with money. And I want you to get one thing straight, Peter is my husband now, and we're very much in love."

"Why isn't he around to help you now?"

"Peter is afraid of Mrs. Hilton. Actually afraid. You've seen that horrid whip. He—Peter has told me of his mother's sudden rages, of the beatings she gave him as a child. Beatings for him, and for his sister Angelica too."

Jim was much interested to learn that Mrs. Kit was far enough outside the family circle so she had not been told that Angelica was Agnes Argyle's daughter.

"You brought up the fact Mrs. Argyle was in California at the time of the tragedy there. Do you suspect her?"

"Something's wrong with her," Kit said. "Something happened to her. She's too hard."

"Do you two believe Angelica's death was accidental?"

"Angelica went to the Spire because she had something of great value hidden there. Something worth a second attempt to regain. Possibly something which would give her a hold, an upper hand over Mrs. Oswald or Mrs. Hilton, or both. Angelica wasn't happy about giving up her husband, even if she did it for the Carlson favor."

"You and your sister," Dunn went on, "have come a long way on the path you chose. The success of your plans is very close indeed. What would you two do to keep anything from happening to spoil your plans now?"

Mrs. Gelstrap giggled. "We'd do most anything. But not something stupid. Killing would be stupid."

Miss Wister handed Jim a sheet of paper with a few lines of typing on it as soon as they were alone in the small sunroom.

Jim tore the paper up. He smiled at her. "So much for the resignation. I don't know for sure what you've done to feel you should quit. But at a guess, I'd say it was because you moved Angelica's body?"

Miss Wister looked at the shreds of paper. She sighed. "Thank you," she said. "Yes, one of the things I have to tell is that I moved Angelica. I wanted to see if I could do anything. I couldn't. She was dead, and the elevator platform was crushed down on her. I had to raise it to get her out."

"You said you were going to have a talk with Mrs. Oswald. Did you tell her that?"

"Yes," Jim could understand now why the old woman had been so eager for him to make the investigation. Miss Wister would tell him how she had found the body. Death by accident would be a foregone conclusion, and Jim, as an apparently disinterested witness, would wield a big brush in applying the coat of white-wash to the remaining Carlsons.

"It's a simple enough and usual enough situation. My folks never had any money, even though there was the kinship to railroads. But they tried to keep up. They broke their hearts trying. I made up my mind early I wouldn't make that mistake at least. I made another just as bad. I was fool enough, after my parents died, to go to Mrs. Oswald for help. I wanted to go to college. She suggested a secretarial course. She arranged a part scholarship for me in such a school, and she got me a job waiting on tables for the rest of my tuition. I never asked her for any other help."

Jim decided to fill in Miss Wister's long pause with a question. "You were supposed to come up here with a report. I gather there is such a report?"

"Yes. And that's one reason I gave you my resignation. I'll still give it to you if you want. But I couldn't tell you what actually happened. I was afraid you would tell everything to the sheriff."

Jim asked gently, "You found out that Angelica was Agnes Argyle's child?"

Relics Of 'Great Navigator' Take The Spotlight Today

Columbus Day is an important date in the Republic of Santo Domingo. Each year, the casket containing the Great Navigator's "true remains" is brought out from its elaborate marble tomb in the Cathedral of Santo Domingo, Cuidad Trujillo, and opened in impressive ceremonies. Leading the observance are President Rafael Trujillo the Archbishop and the highest dignitaries of the government. The remains of Columbus, a collection of bones, were found deep in the ground under the high altar on Sept. 10, 1877. They had been hidden for centuries before from marauding English pirates who were then the scourge of the Spanish Main. The sarcophagus containing the relics reposes in a magnificent marble tomb, designed by the Catalan sculptor Carbonell and dedicated on the 400th anniversary of the discovery of the New World.

out that Angelica was Agnes Argyle's child?"

Miss Wister let out a sigh of relief. "Yes, I'm so glad you know. But can't you see how I saw things? I couldn't tell you the truth about what actually happened without telling you at the same time about Angelica—so you wouldn't tell everything to Agnes Argyle. Oh, I suppose that sounds mixed up to you, but it isn't. Maybe there's too much Carlson in my make-up after all."

GOOD AND BAD FINESSES

It is a remarkable fact that average players seem to prefer bad finesses to good finesses. The following all-too-typical case documents this point.

South dealer.

North-South vulnerable.

♠ 10 2	♥ 9 8 6 3
♦ A K Q 9 3	♠ 5
♣ A Q J	♥ 10 7 6

♣ A Q 6 2

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1♦	Pass	2♥	Pass
3NT	Pass	6♦	Pass

South's diamond suit was scarcely of the sort that anyone likes to have for a slam contract, but the combined trump holding made the six-diamond contract entirely sound. At match-points the expert tendency would be to land at six notrump, or possibly six hearts, but under the actual rubber bridge conditions, the North-South bidding was logical in all respects.

West decided to open a trump—usually a doubtful lead against a small slam, but in this case inconsequential. Declarer cashed dummy's three trumps, then led a spade to his ace and drew East's last trump, discarding a club from dummy. Now, with a fine disregard a danger that should have been quite apparent, South cashed the ace and king of hearts, obviously preparing to run the entire suit.

East's showing-out came as a shock, and perhaps it rattled South so much that he could not concentrate on ways and means of recovering his position. If he had cashed the other side tricks, West would have been highly embarrassed for discard. He had thrown two spades on the diamonds; now he would have to give up a heart or blank the club king and in either case he could be made to yield the fulfilling trick. South, however, chose to discard a club on the heart queen, then took the club finesse. Down he went!

South was something less than discriminating in his choice of finesse. It would have been a safety play to lead and pass the heart ten through West, whereas the club finesse was an outright gamble.

Foot-Shape Shoes

KANSAS CITY (P)—Dr. Milton Gennis wears a pair of shoes that look like leather models of his feet.

Dr. Gennis, past president of the American College of Foot Orthopedists, says the shoes are designed to give perfect walking comfort.

They have sponge rubber soles and an opening at the side which laces. They have a kind of a mesh bottom with depressions for each toe.

"Every shoe has to be made to the contours of the foot," Dr. Gennis said Sunday in an interview. "That makes the cost high but its comfortable."

Assembly Lines ON WHEELS!

NOWADAYS, manufacturing plants don't have to put up with the expense and inefficiency of keeping large inventories of materials and parts on hand.

Trucks and truck-trailers, by providing swift, direct, door-to-door transportation service, have made such costly procedure a thing of the past.

The modern assembly line extends, in effect, beyond the manufacturing plant itself to the commercial motor vehicles which continuously supply industry with 'round-the-clock shipments of materials and parts.

Yes, trucks and truck-trailers are indeed assembly lines on wheels, serving industry in a way that brings an ever-improving standard of living to all the people.

Highway Fund

Resolutions also were passed authorizing payment of $100 to W. G. Stephens, former city assessor who served on the board of supervisors, for extraordinary services rendered to the county over a period of years; and payment of $200 to the Indian Lake Property Owners association for assistance in building a dam on the Indian River.

The supervisors also passed customary resolutions naming depositories for county moneys and on re-assessment of taxes. During the session, a resolution passed by Lapeer county, asking that division of the state motor highway vehicle fund be made on the basis of 41 per cent to the state, 40 per cent to counties, and 19 per cent to cities and villages, was approved by the supervisors here. At present, the state receives 44 per cent, counties 36 per cent and cities and villages 19 per cent from the fund.

At the close of the meeting, Wells Bowers, supervisor of Mueller township, stated the new town hall in his district will be dedicated about Oct. 26, and asked supervisors to attend.

Germfask Man Fined Here For Drunken Driving

James M. Downing Jr., 41, of Germfask, entered a plea of guilty to a charge of drunk driving, in justice court Monday, and was meted fine of $50 and assessed costs of $7.95.

His driver's license was suspended by Justice J. J. Doyle for 90 days.

Downing, who was arrested by Newberry State Police, also was assessed fine of $5 and costs of $2 for driving without a license.

Fourteen Veterans Are Hospitalized In Past Four Months

Thirteen veterans were hospitalized at Iron Mountain and one at Wood, Wis., during the months of June, July, August and September, Donald Messier, counselor, reports.

The veteran's counseling center also made applications for three for non-service connected disability pensions, and five veterans during that period received non-service connected disability pension of $63 per month. Back pay for the five totaled $2,380, Messier said.

In addition, one veteran was awarded non-service connected disability pension of $75 per month, with back pay of $175; one was awarded a 30 per cent service-connected disability compensation of $47.25 per month, and another a 20 per cent disability compensation of $31.50 per month. Back pay for the latter two was $497.50 and $454, respectively, the counselor reports.

Cash value of new benefits received for veterans here during the past four months was $3,486.50 and the accrued cash value of benefits is $8,024.20, Messier added.

Forty-one new veterans were contacted in the period, in a total of 213 contacts made, he said. Sixty-two Korean veterans are included in the total.

Nationally Known Dance Caller Will Attend Club Meet

An excellent turnout marked the Saturday night meeting of the Do-si-Do Square Dance club at the Escanaba Wester School gym, according to Larry Johnston, one of the leaders in the club.

Arrangements are under way to have John Gardner, Green Bay, nationally known square dance caller, attend the meeting at Escanaba on the evening of Saturday, Nov. 6, Johnston stated.

The last meeting was well attended by groups from Gladstone, Rapid River and Escanaba.

Okeh Rezoning Of Part 2 Of Assessor's Plat

Part Two of the Assessor's Plat last night was rezoned from Class A Residential to Class D commercial at a regular meeting of the City Commission at the City Hall.

The change had been requested several months ago by Earl Bunno of the firm of Bunno and Sebeck who told the commission he wished to build a service station on the property.

The property, along with several other pieces in the Assessor's Plat, originally had been donated to the city by James T. Jones for

Tells Changes In Social Security

Significant changes in the Social Security laws brought about by legislation amendment were detailed and explained by Carl Johnson, Escanaba, of the Social Security Office, at a meeting of the Gladstone Rotary Club yesterday noon.

O. H. Anderson, program chairman, introduced the speaker.

The Hon. D. Hale Brake, state treasurer, was a guest at the meeting as was Roger Wright, Minneapolis, chief rules examiner for the Soo Line.

Johnson said that congressional amendment to the Social Security laws will bring an estimated 10 million persons under its coverage. This is mainly to the self-employed class.

In Delta county it is estimated that some 900 will be benefited. Most of them are farmers, the speaker said.

Johnson related how the program had been broadened and declared that even baby sitters are now covered if they work 24 days and earn $50 or more in a given quarter.

Under the amended plan a man in the $250 to $350 income bracket may receive $200 per month upon the age of 65, the speaker said.

Disability benefits are also paid and widows, dependent parents and children also may qualify for assistance under the revised plan.

Any information desired on the new regulations may be obtained at the Social Security office at Escanaba or a representative will be sent to the home of any person unable to appear at the office, Mr. Johnson said.

State Treasurer Brake spoke briefly after being introduced to the audience.

Ignoring Traffic Ticket Is Costly

John Raisanen of Ishpeming discovered to his chagrin late last week that it is good policy to honor traffic tickets issued by Michigan State Police.

Last April 17, John was ticketed by troopers on patrol for lack of an operator's license. Raisanen failed to appear. So last week a warrant was issued for his arrest and he was brought before Justice of Peace A. T. Sohlberg Thursday.

On the failure to have an operator's permit he was fined $2 and assessed costs of $2. In the meantime, a check had been made and it was learned that any driving done by Raisanen last April was done while his operator's license was suspended so a second charge was placed against him.

On this charge he received a mandatory 2-day jail sentence and was fined $10 and ordered to pay costs of $4.30.

Allan Villeneuve, Escanaba Central tackle, and Jim Seyler, Green Bay Central end, were roommates at St. Francis Hospital after receiving injuries in Sunday afternoon's game here. Villeneuve's injury, by the way, was a displaced bone in the neck and he did not swallow his tongue as was stated here yesterday. Both injuries are clearing up satisfactorily, we understand.

When will Lady Luck smile on the Escanaba Eskymo football team? . . . Although they've lost five straight games this season the Eskymos were outclassed only by the strong Green Bay East team. . . . Against Ironwood the Eskymos lost by a touchdown, the same against Soo and Menominee. . . . And Saturday Coach Joe Milokna's team outplayed Kingsford but missed the payoff by the margin of a single point after touchdown. . . . Maybe the break will come against Iron Mountain next Saturday. . . . The Mountaineers also lost to Menominee by one touchdown, 7-0, Saturday.

When Wakefield suffered its first loss of the season Friday night to Hurley, 38-14, the U. P.'s leading scorer Eugene Velasano failed to score a touchdown. . . . An account of the game in the Duluth Tribune stated that in the final seconds of play Wakefield scored its second touchdown on a pass on the "sleeper play." . . . Under a new Michigan High School rule this year the sleeper is illegal. . . . The game was played at Hurley.

The Iron River Redskins, who shocked Stambaugh 44-0 Friday night, apparently have clear sailing ahead for their third straight Menominee Range championship. . . . And also the No. 1 spot in the Upper Peninsula. . . . The Redskins, playing a seven-game schedule, will meet Stephenson and Iron Mountain in their remaining games.

Sault Ste. Marie's Cammie Currie, big fullback, scored four times as the Blue Devils swept by Marquette Friday night, 32-0. . . . Marquette was able to penetrate into Soo territory only twice in the game, reaching the 36 and the 43.

Colorado Grid Team Orange Bowl Bound?

By FRANK PITMAN

BOULDER, Colo. —Colorado's single wing football team, manned by sturdy sophomores in the line and seasoned seniors in the backfield, is ticking off touchdowns and victories so fast their dizzy fans are dreaming of a trip to the Orange Bowl in Miami.

The unbeaten Buffaloes have thundered to four decisive victories with a crushing ground game that is first in the nation. They tackled on 421 yards rushing against Arizona last Saturday night to boost their total to 1,525 yards — an average of 380 yards per game.

Sooners Ineligible
With Oklahoma ineligible for a second consecutive trip to the Orange Bowl, the second place team in the Big Seven will go if the Sooners win the conference title. Colorado's chances of finishing No. 2 in the Big Seven are good — and a championship for the Buffaloes is not an impossibility.

Maryland represented the Atlantic Coast Conference in the Orange Bowl last Jan. 1, and under the present pact — renewed for three years this week — the Terrapins, like Oklahoma, are ineligible to return.

Duke Likely Foe

Duke, a perennial power that tied for the conference championship a year ago, is in a good position to claim either first or second place in the eastern loop. Last Saturday the Blue Devils tied powerful Purdue, which the preceding week, conquered Notre Dame.

Oklahoma meets Colorado Oct. 30 at Boulder where the Sooners were lucky indeed to escape with a 21-21 tie in 1952. Last year Oklahoma beat Colorado, 27-20, at Norman after trailing most of the game.

Colorado romped over Arizona Saturday, 40-18. Colorado's other triumphs this year were 61-0 over Drake, 46-0 over Colorado A&M and 27-0 over Kansas.

Hope To Decide Today Who Will Purchase A's

By JOE MOOSHIL

CHICAGO —Who will gain control of the Philadelphia Athletics and where will they play in 1955 were the big questions American League club owners hope to decide at a meeting today.

That the debt-ridden Macks will lose control of the franchise which has been in their family for 54 years appeared a virtual certainty unless some "angel" pops up with needed cash.

Couldn't Raise Money

At a league meeting in New York two weeks ago, Roy Mack was given 14 days to raise $750,000 to buy control of the team from his father, Connie and brother Earle.

Roy, fighting grimly to keep the A's in Philadelphia, hasn't come up with the money.

Harris Signs Pact To Manage Tigers

DETROIT —Bucky Harris' return to Detroit as manager of the Detroit Tigers after a 20-year absence is official.

Harris met with Tiger president Walter O. (Spike) Briggs Monday to sign a one-year contract. The terms of the contract were not disclosed, but his salary is believed to be near $30,000 a year.

The 58-year-old Harris succeeds Fred Hutchinson who resigned recently after the club refused to grant him a two year contract. Harris managed the Tigers from 1929 through 1934.

Cardinals Waive Brazle, Lowrey

By BOB HOOBING

ST. LOUIS —Relief pitcher Al Brazle and outfielder — pinch hitter Harry (Peanuts) Lowrey, the two oldest players on the St. Louis Cardinals, were put on the waiver block Monday.

A club spokesman said the action, for the unconditional release of the two veterans, was taken now to give them time to seek other jobs. Both are 10-year men in the major leagues.

Brazle, who will be 40 next week, set two Cardinal records in 1953 by pitching in 60 games and finishing 33 of them. The southpaw hurler had a 5-4 record in relief this year and won 97 and lost 64 in his major league career which dates back to 1943.

Lowrey, who came to the Birds from Cincinnati late in the 1950 season on waivers, smacked out seven straight pinch hits to set a major league mark in 1952. The 36-year-old Peanuts had 21 pinch hits in 1953, falling one short of the record. He hit .115 for St. Louis this year.

Other Teams Were After New Manager Of Red Sox

By BOB HOOBING

BOSTON — Rumors that other major league teams were after the services of Frank (Pinky) Higgins prompted the Boston Red Sox to sign Louisville farm club ace to a two-year managerial contract.

Higgins' appointment to succeed Lou Boudreau, whose second two-year pact with the Sox had a season to run, was made Monday by General Manager Joe Cronin at a hastily-called press conference.

Cronin was asked why Higgins, groomed in the Red Sox minor league chain for eight years,

Michigan Gave 100 Per Cent

ANN ARBOR —No one could predict it but as Michigan coach Bennie Oosterbaan said: "When all 11 guys play 100 per cent you've got to win."

And they did just that. Michigan upset Iowa 14-13.

Tackle Art Walker, who played in the vicinity of Iowa's all-America prospect, Cal Jones, most of the afternoon, said he saw some excellent guard play.

"Dick Hill, he's our sophomore guard," Walker said. "He hit Jones so hard one time, that he slowed him down all game."

Jim Bates, who came off a sick bed to prepare for Iowa, his first game since 1952, said: "They were all up and fighting." In practice Monday halfback Tony Branoff was still missing. But Lou Baldacci was in full uniform, jogging and trotting like the rest. Both missed the Iowa game because of injuries.

Michigan has three days to practice in Ann Arbor before it takes off for its second Big Ten game against Northwestern Saturday at Evanston, Ill. The Wildcats lost to Minnesota 26-7 Saturday.

Sports Roundup

By JACK NARD

NEW YORK —The Bobo Olson-Joe Giardello middleweight title match, announced for San Francisco, Dec. 15, has drawn sharp criticism from Bob Christenberry, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission.

"Ridiculous," said Christenberry Monday night. "They made a match with a man (Giardello) in the hospital. I will have more to say about recognition of the bout when the world championship committee meets in London next month."

Christenberry obviously referred to pictures in the morning paper showing Giardello in a wheel chair after an operation to remove a torn cartilage in his left knee at Philadelphia. His surgeons, however, said he should be able to start roadwork in a month.

The New York chairman also is head of the world committee. Floyd Patterson, picking his way toward a shot at the light heavyweight championship, has disposed of his 16th victim in 17 pro fights. Esau Ferdinand of San Francisco was the latest to bow before the former Olympic champion on a unanimous decision in eight rounds Monday night at St. Nicholas Arena.

Ferdinand weighed 169½ to Patterson's 166½ pounds.

Bobby Dykes, the Miami string bean, won a unanimous decision over Milwaukee's Ted Olla in a 10-rounder at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway Monday night.

Matchmaker Teddy Brenner is trying to pair Dykes with Ralph (Tiger) Jones Oct. 23. Jones knocked out Dykes earlier this year in the 10th round after trailing all the way.

The lanky Dykes, 159½, used his long left to keep off Olla, 161.

Judge Joe Agnello had it 7-3 and judge Harold Barnes 5-4-1, both for Dykes. Referee Mark Conn scored it 4-4-2 but gave Dykes 8 points and Olla 6. The AP card was 6-4 for Dykes.

Howe Greatest, Says Manager

DETROIT —Jack Adams, general manager of the Detroit Red Wings, says the greatest athlete he ever saw is Gordie Howe.

Howe was right winger on all six Red Wing teams that captured successive National Hockey League championships and a star on this year's outfit that has won its first two games.

Writing Monday in a Detroit News sports feature, "My Favorite," Adams said:

"To me, there's only one guy. He's right with me. He's the greatest athlete I ever saw — Gordie Howe.

"I saw a lot of drama in athletics in my life. This fellow has given me the greatest thrills of all.

"He could be a big leaguer in anything he did. Golf pros have told me they would have liked to work with him. Lou Boudreau said he could be a big league ball player, he has such a natural swing.

"Every fight manager who has come in the Wing dressing room has spoken of his possibilities. He can really handle himself. But I've got the handcuffs on him. He's under orders not to fight on the ice. He's more valuable to us playing hockey.

"He's got the natural ability, the physique, the reflexes, disposition, size, gameness and heart. I don't think I'll ever see another hockey player like him."

Cincinnati Best Homer Diamond

NEW YORK —Crosley Field, home of the Cincinnati Redlegs and a relatively new member of the "shortened foul lines" club, replaced Brooklyn's Ebbets Field in 1954 as the favorite target of major league home run hitters.

A total of 199 homers were hit in Cincinnati. Ebbets Field was the scene of 193 home runs and New York's Polo Grounds 187, figures compiled by The Associated Press disclosed today.

The Brooklyn ball park topped both leagues in 1953 with 192 followed by 190 for the Giants' park. But it was Crosley Field which showed the biggest gain—86 to 185—after the distance from home plate to the right field wall was sliced from 366 to 342 feet.

The reduced footage in Cincinnati worked against the Redlegs last season. They slammed 94 homers at home and the visiting teams hit 105.

Fenway park, den of the Boston Red Sox, headed the American League in number of home runs with 139 to 137 for Cleveland's Municipal Stadium.

American League batters found Baltimore's Memorial Stadium the toughest. Only 42 homers were walloped there.

Washington's Griffith Stadium relinquished its "least homered in" title with an aggregate of 52.

Midwest Grid Notes

CHICAGO —Midwest football briefs:

Wisconsin—Coach Ivy Williamson put his regulars through a light drill and said "We need a lot of work before we're ready for Purdue."

Purdue —The Boilermakers went through a light workout. Guard Dick Skibinski suffered a wrenched knee in the Duke game and might be out of action Saturday.

Iowa —Roger Swedberg, first string tackle, suffered a knee injury in the Michigan game. Coach Forest Evashevski said it is feared Swedberg has a torn cartilage and might be lost for the season.

Ohio State —Coach Woody Hayes fears Iowa's loss to Michigan might turn out to be rough on his Buckeyes. "Iowa's loss to Michigan doesn't mean Iowa will be easier for us," said Hayes.

Minnesota —The Gophers took it easy to nurse a few bruises suffered against Northwestern. End Ron Smith suffered a shoulder separation and is unlikely to play against Illinois.

Illinois — Seeking a solution to snap a three-game losing streak, Coach Ray Eliot promoted quarterback Bob Gonga and tackle Fred Wilmoth to the first string.

Michigan —The Wolverines jogged through a light workout following their 14-13 upset of Iowa. Fullback Lou Baldacci, out with injuries, is expected to play against Northwestern.

Northwestern — Rain forced the Wildcats indoors where Coach Bobby Voigts pointed out mistakes in the Minnesota game. Voigts said he'll stress fundamentals this week, especially tackling.

Sooners No. 1 In College Grid Poll

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

(By The Associated Press)

Oklahoma's one-touchdown victory over Texas last Saturday released a landslide of votes today that swept Bud Wilkinson's Sooners far in front in the weekly Associated Press rankings of college football teams.

Out of a total of 201 sports writers and broadcasters, no fewer than 118 picked Oklahoma first. And not one failed to put the Sooners somewhere in the first 10.

As a result, Oklahoma collected 1,797 points on the usual basis of 10 for a first-place ballot, 9 for second, etc. A week ago, when they had won only two games, the Sooners polled 77 firsts and 1,369 points.

Wisconsin, a 13-7 winner over Rice, moved into second place ahead of UCLA, which barely pulled out a 21-20 decision over Washington. Ohio State, 40-7 winner over Illinois, climbed from 10th place to fourth.

Iowa and Southern California, two of the upset victims, lost their places in the first 10. Iowa garnered only enough points for 13th place after its 14-13 loss to Michigan, while USC, upset 20-7 by Texas Christian, didn't even appear in the first 20.

The leaders (first-place votes in parentheses):

1. Oklahoma (118)	1,797
2. Wisconsin (21)	1,555
3. UCLA (10)	1,223
4. Ohio State (14)	1,180

Bobo Olson To Defend Ring Crown On Dec. 15

SAN FRANCISCO — Carl (Bobo) Olson will defend his world middleweight championship for the third time this year when he meets Joey Giardello of Philadelphia in a nationally televised 15-rounder in San Francisco's Cow Palace Dec. 15.

Promoter Bennie Ford made the announcement Monday after the match was agreed to by the International Boxing Club.

It was understood Olson would get 40 per cent and Giardello 20 of both net receipts and of $50,000 for TV rights.

Giardello was riding high last summer after knockouts over Garth Panter, Willie Troy and Walter Cartier before he was upset by Pierre Langlois. Since then he has racked up Bobby Jones, Bill Kilgore and Ralph (Tiger) Jones. Joey is in Philadelphia's St. Agnes Hospital, where he underwent an operation for removal of torn cartilage from his left knee. However, his doctor says he will be able to start roadwork in a month, giving him five weeks to get ready for his title shot.

Olson outpointed Kid Gavilan in Chicago in April and Rocky Castellani in August. He will warm up for the Giardello fight with a non-title bout in nearby Richmond Nov. 3.

Little Rest For Spartan Squad

By ROBERT E. VOGES

EAST LANSING —Michigan State has little time this week to relax and enjoy the memory of its first football victory of the season at the expense of Indiana.

On Saturday again, the Spartans will be back in Indiana, where Notre Dame is lying in wait at South Bend.

Even before the season started, this game was a sellout—a tribute to the all-out brand of football the Spartans and the Irish have shown since they revived their modern series in 1948.

Notre Dame, under young coach Terry Brennan, is riding high again. After an upset by Purdue, the Irish came raging back to dust off Pittsburgh 33-0.

The Irish have good reason to want to mop up the Spartans on home ground. The two teams didn't meet last year. But MSC has taken the last three in a row, winning 36-33 in 1950, 35-0 in 1951 and 21-3 in 1952.

Notre Dame already was on the minds of the MSC coaches in Monday's workout. The squad worked on defense against the Irish attack.

Weather Rainy Over Wide Area

(By The Associated Press)
Rain and cloudy weather was in prospect today for broad areas in the mid-continent, including flood-stricken Chicago and sections of northern Indiana and northern Illinois.

Light rain and showers were reported early today in a narrow belt from northwestern Arkansas northeastward into southeastern Missouri and northeastern Illinois. Scattered light showers also fell in the northern Great Plains.

Skies were cloudy over the Mississippi Valley, the Great Lakes region and the northeastern Great Plains. But generally fair weather prevailed over other parts of the country.

Southerly winds brought a flow of warm and humid air into the Lower Mississippi Valley and the eastward to the Atlantic Coast. At the same time, cooler Canadian and Pacific air moved across the Northern Plains.

Tornadoes struck Monday near Gorham, in central Kansas, and Franklin, in central Indiana. Two persons were injured and 30 homes damaged by the twister at Franklin. The tornado at Gorham blew down two oil derricks, unroofed two houses and destroyed a garage.

Wilson Arouses Labor Anger In Detroit Remarks

lican rally in Grand Rapids, Mich., Monday night, took exception to Wilson's remark.

"I would not express myself in the same way—as Wilson—about unemployment," he said, adding: "I realize this (unemployment) is beyond the control of any individual. Any unemployment is a calamity to the man, his family, his city, state, and the nation."

In Washington, Johnston said: "I think Secretary Wilson will live to see the day he'll regret his remarks. It is very unfortunate for a man in high position to make such a statement."

Guardsmen To Receive Service Medals, Promotions

In a special ceremony beginning at 7:30 this evening, Capt. Roy J. Johnson, commander of Company C 107th Engineers, will award service medals and ribbons to three engineer sergeants. The award is for continued service of six years in the Michigan National Guard, all in the local unit.

The sergeants who will receive the awards are Melvin Larson, Escanaba and Walter Mokszycki and Frank Schmitt of Ford River. Earlier this month Capt. Johnson and Lt. George Anderson were awarded two gold stars each, to apply to their blue service ribbons. For them it was the successful completion of 12 years of duty in the National Guard.

The following promotions were announced by Capt. Johnson as follows: Marcel LaChapelle to corporal and the following to private first class, Raymond Beauchamp, Jerome Dombrowski, Valerian Madalinski, Albert Willette, Walter Wojcik, and Paul Goodman. Promotions were earned by study, attending drills regularly, and performing good service in Company C.

Lt. Anderson, recruit director also announced that campaign "Leadership" for recruiting new men is still on the upswing. The total of new men taken into the unit since the drive started has now reached 22. Latest to join are Sgt. Leonard Lorge, a veteran from Ensign, and Edmund Haga and James Larson, Kipling. The engineer company has now reached a strength of 81 enlisted men, with the goal of at least 100 still to be reached.

Two Daggett Men Arrested, Charged With Headlighting

MENOMINEE — Two Daggett men pleaded innocent before Justice Albert Sanders in Stephentown to hunting early Saturday with an artificial light in Holmes township after their arrest after a 15-mile chase at speeds over 80 miles an hour by a patrol of conservation officers.

Joseph Kuntz, 35 and Paul Ross Jr., 36, both of whom work in Milwaukee were charged with hunting with an artificial light just west of Banat. Officers gave chase and they drove to Banat, south to Star Corners and east to Daggett.

Kuntz leaped out of the car at his home and Officer Ernest Sharon, in the first car with Officer Herbert Less, leaped out of the car in pursuit. Kuntz was arrested by Sharon Saturday at 1:30 a. m. in a marsh area near his home.

Meanwhile Lees and Officers Clarence Lienna and Oscar Sundquist, in another car, followed the Ross car. Ross was arrested Sunday by Lienna.

Both pleaded innocent on arraignment and executed $200 bonds for appearance at a hearing. No date was set for the hearing. When Kuntz was arrested he was brought to Menominee County Jail and held until he was taken before Justice Sanders for arraignment.

President Discusses Farm Program in Indianapolis Friday

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
DENVER (AP)—An important congressional campaign issue—the administration's controversial farm program—will be the theme of a major address by President Eisenhower in Indianapolis Friday night.

The Denver White House late Monday gave newsmen details about the President's plans for the speech and insisted—over and over again—it will be "nonpartisan" and "will not be an appeal for election of Republican candidates" for Congress.

But Asst. Press Secretary Murray Snyder also declared the Republican party "very probably" would purchase television and radio time to get Eisenhower's views on the farm program before as many American voters as possible.

GOP leaders in the Midwestern farm belt area reportedly have been urging the President to make a major address in that area in an effort to spur the Republican drive to keep control of Congress in the Nov. 2 elections.

But Snyder repeatedly—and with explanation—soft-pedaled the inevitable political aspects of Eisenhower's Indianapolis farm speech.

The Planning Commission chairman said that extensive study and research has been conducted on the project. The public will have ample opportunity to study the proposals and to protest the changes, if desired he said.

James G. Ward, general manager, and Duncan Cameron, circulation manager, spoke briefly in commemoration of National Newspaper Week. Cameron introduced the five top newsboys in the Escanaba area.

Pomazel said that the changes will drastically reduce the number of non-confirming uses in the community and will permit the development of the city in a proper manner.
